“ No mention of Artie's role in WWII. At 18 he and his fellow Marines stormed the beaches at Okinawa on April 1, 1945 in the last invasion before Japan. He told me that if not for the atom bomb he would not have survived an invasion if Japan. He is one of my most treasured heros. Thank God he lived to tell me his story. He was one of those who made America great. There are few left. Rest in peace.
