“ Bruce was a good friend of Marc, my fiancé who passed of MDS back in April. Marc always spoke so highly of Bruce. They talked about cars, life etc all while getting their transfusions and treatment. I had the honor of meeting Bruce after Marc passed while visiting the transfusion nurses at work. I could tell Bruce was a great guy. I prayed a lot for him. I am so sorry to his family. I know the pain of losing someone to the same condition. I will keep you all in my prayers always.

“ I worked with Bruce as a Correction Officer in 1990. He was a great guy, and when he found me on Facebook several years ago, I was surprised to see he remembered me. He had a great memory. He remembered things about me I had long forgot. We kept in touch, and he was to be a life long friend. He will be missed by many. He was way too young and full of life to leave us.
Rest In Peace my old friend.

“ My dad was a warm hearted lovable guy. No matter what you were going through you could talk to him and some how he always made you feel like everything was gonna be alright. He kept it real. His advice might not of been what you WANTED to hear, but it was what you NEEDED to hear. I wouldn't be where I am today if it wasn't for the lessons he taught me. I know he's up there putting a coat of wax on his heavenmobile. I love you Dad always and forever. - Your little buck.

“ I grew up around the corner from Bruce and his entire family. I spent the greater part of ages 7 through 18 hanging with Bruce, playing sports, talking as friends in his basement and getting to know him more. Bruce was so authentic, and would tell you exactly how he was feeling. Never any guessing with Bruce and he was a true original friend from my roots in Brooklyn. When I heard the news, I looked up at heaven and said a few words to him. I know he's there because I knew his heart. I wish all the best to his entire family and thank Bruce for all the great memories we shared. Until we meet again.

Thank you for your genuine and heartfelt comments. Nothing like the love we Brooklyn boys all have for each other. Stay well.

Richard Stucko - July 25, 2022 at 10:19 PM

Bruce, our brothers ( both named Richard) and myself shared a special bond as young boys and as we entered adulthood. I will never forget Bruce's passion for life and friendship. His smile, huge personality and loyalty to friendship will always be remembered. While adult years and distance from where we each lived has kept us out of touch, true friendship never dies. My heart goes out to your love ones my friend. My you lay in eternal peace and find Gods love. Until we meet again in a better place.

“ A few short words could never sum up a lifetime of memories. I love my Dad, and I'll miss him always. Lenny - don't forget that I'm not going anywhere. One of the last things I told Dad was that I'd always keep my eye on Brandon and Kayla. Natty and Dakota will still need Grandma Renny. We are all here for you!
