“ So saddened to see that "Ellie" passed away. I met her September 17, 1973 when I started at AT&T, she was my mentor and a great one at that. She started me in my long corporate America career. The last time I saw her was when her pride and joy Joey got married. She was and is a wonderful and beautiful woman. Pat Tavella-Bunca

“"My dear friend!" is how we always greeted & "I love you" is how we always parted. When I first met you you are just another cute little old lady walking into my office. But we immediately hit it off like sisters. Without hesitation I felt a duty to you and your mother. Wonderful women in need of an extra hand. Thankfully between Wade and I we were able to overcome the shady contractors and poor workmanship your poor little house suffered from. The care and attention in which you treated your home was a testament to your sense of honor, respect, and duty. Through volunteering to help you take on even the silliest things. Lol I remember feeling like a superhero the day I came over and fixed your garage door. Your mother said "there's no way that little girl is going to get that huge door open"....but I did!

My dearest friend... I'm going to miss you so much. You and I have talked about everything under the Sun. You have taught me so much just through the simple act of having lived it. These past few months without you have been so sad. I feel like I have been holding my breath... I wanted you to come home so badly. I miss you so much. When I think about the countless hours we spent at your dining table with a cup of tea in hand and always a sandwich or cookies. Sometimes I think you were trying to fill my face so I didn't talk so much. You are the Queen of the detailed long story but sometimes I would match you! Our conversations of food, life & love will never be forgotten. You imprinted your soul on mine. You will forever be a part of me. Being your best friend has been my honor & pleasure!
