Después prender lo fuegos artificial y las pirotecnia. Sube a casa te abraze i dije kiero llevarme bien contigo.

Después te empezaste a enfermar.

Estuve día y noche a tu lado. Después de huracán María. El la vida nos separo por un tiempo

Pero después nos juntamos como otra vez familia. Hasta el 17 de abril a las 1am.

“Pop, I wanted to tell you that hurricane Maria brought you back to New York after over 30 years, and because of it you suffered much lost, for a season you stayed with me and my family.
I Thank God because we were able to spend time together, sitting on the porch talking about your favorite topic God. Pop you amazed me with your words, and your songs. You showed me what a man that truly loves God looks like, funny thing is that all my life you never changed. Your love for God just seemed to grow. May my children see in me what ive seen in you, I'll never forget your favorite saying when you spoke about your father. "Yo soy Don NIKO ah,ah,ah amigo de Lukasi ah, ah, ah, El del sombrero de pra, pra, ah,ah,ah."
I will never forget you Pop.
I will see you in heaven save me a seat on the porch.

“Pop, as all of his boys called him, was a very quiet and gentle man. He loved to sing. I remember many times when he would start singing a favorite song. His voice would sometimes crack but he kept singing. He didn't just sing any song though. He sang songs about his God. Many times he would tear up as he sang about his savior. Pop, You fought the good fight, You finished the race, You kept the faith. I love you and will miss you but I'll see you in heaven when it's my time.
