“ I was so saddened to learn of John's passing. He had such an impact on my life and I learned so much from him and about him as his co-host. I don't mean to dredge up memories after several years, but I wanted his family to know how much he meant to me and extend my condolences on the loss of a great man.

“ I will miss John and his voice. He interviewed me many times at several radio stations and was a master at his craft. Even though he might not have known much about an issue, somehow, as if by magic, he would always ask the right question to allow me to make my point. He always made his guests feel at ease and made the guest the focus and not himself and always conducted the interview in a way that put the guest in their best light. He was an important asset to our community and will be missed. George Rogero

“ I did radio programs with John scores of time over the years, and we became good friends. John was a consummate professional, asking intelligent questions and producing first rate programs. At the same time, he was the kindest, most personable person imaginable. One felt warm welcome and real consonance with him. When, a few years ago, we ran into each other, it was old friends reuniting. I feel his loss. I hope John's family takes solace in all of the wonderful memories of this real personality who worked so hard to make a great community out of Orange County. He left so many good memories behind wherever he went.

“ The first time I met John I knew he had a passion for life. He was someone who went out there & made his dreams happen. He left a lucrative career in Manhattan to do radio full time. His on-air style was warm & inviting. He was an inspiration to me.. Jack Willard

As Mayor, I had the distinct pleasure of working with him, as he would call me in to provide community updates on his radio program, and when he was MC for our many fund raising Irish shows at the Paramount theatre. May God Grant him Eternal Rest in Heaven and much Peace and Comfort to his family and friends. Will miss you.

“ john was a patient of mine and was a great man. I would visit wall radio and he had me do the weather and just talk of middletown. John was a welcoming friend. The last time I saw John he did not remember me well when I was at the Promenade and he was there as a resident.. that made me sad. I wish the family well Dr Thomas Littner
