“ Words can not express the sorrow that i feel. Mable and I were high school sisters. We did not talk every day, but we always kept in touch. I will never forget her. May the love of those around the family help all of you through the days ahead. With sympathy love ivy

“ I will never forget the day I met Mabel at St. Vincents Hospital in Staten Island, NY. I had given birth to my first born 1/31/87 & she had her third, a boy, on 2/1/87. We became instant friends bc she was a genuinely kind person. Even after she moved upstate wr kept in touch. I always wish we could have gotten together more often. Certain extenuating circumstances usually made that possibility a challenge. I'll always be grateful for the friendship we shared. May her gentle soul Rest in Peace. I'll always remember her fondly.

“ Mabel and I are both grandmothers to our little girls, Nora and Victoria. From the day I met her she always welcomed me into her home for any and all occasions. The meals, the martinis, the music, the laughter and the gift of being included was unforgettable. You will be missed dearly; rest easy now ❤️
