“ My dad was such a big strong man was I was growing up but he was a a teddy bear inside. I remember playing outside st Gram's house and I crossed the street to get a ball. When dad found out he was so upset that I could've been hurt crossing without an adult with me. It was the first and only time he (ever so lightly) smacked my butt. It hurt him more, emotionally, than it hurt me. I remember he kept apologizing to me for doing it. All night I heard, Hon, I'm sorry but I wouldn't know what to do if you got hit by a car". God I love how deeply he loved us. His last words to me were, "Lori, just being my daughter is enough for me" My sweet gentle dad, I miss you so much already.

“ One favorite memory of Uncle Mike was when I was younger - 10 or so - and he was playing poker with my dad. They let me play with them and letting me win... making a big deal about beginner's luck and taking all his money. I racked up about $11 "winnings" but couldn't sleep because I felt guilty... I tried to give it back and he just laughed and scooted me back to bed. He was always so fun loving and easy to get along with.
I love you Uncle Mike ❤️ We'll all miss you ❤️

“Dad there will never be a day that I wont miss you and wish you were home but I know you will be with me and I'm slowly finding comfort in that, it definitely isn't easy tho. You are and will be not only my Dad and superhero but you truly were my best friend that I could tell ANYTHING to without ANY judgement! I love you so much h it hurts!! Til we meet again Dad stay watch over us!! You will always be the best man I ever had in my life and I mean that with my entire being!!
