“ Though I haven't seen Sam in 26 years, when we were growing up, we were always together. From 8 years old, on the same little league team (coached by his dad, Fred) through high school he was my best friend. We spent birthdays at each other house and played football, basketball and baseball together as we went through our school years.

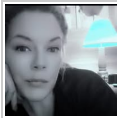

Sam was an exceptional athlete. He wasn't big or fast, but he was quick. I always marveled as to how he could block someone in football who out weighted him by 60 pounds.

As we journey through life, there are people who you were glad they were part of this journey. Sam was one of these people to me.

My condolences to all his family.
